GREAT INTEREST

In The Armer Murder Case at Calhoun is Manifest.

Other Important Cases that will Come up During the Term.

There is much interest in the term of Circuit court which begins next week at Calhoun.

The principal business of the court will be the trial of the case against Rev. W. W. Armer for the murder of his son. The people of McLean county counted the juries of Daviess county, and it is believed that a McLean county jury will do equally well for law, order and justice. It gets a chance. The sentiment, however, is very strong against Armer and it is probable that he will be able to secure a change of venue on that account.

The Ellison will case will be the occasion of a big fight in court. The contest is over the will of the late Thomas Ellison, and will be very bitterly fought all along the line.

The prohibition election case will make things warm for a few days at court. An election was held here on the question as to whether or not whisky should be sold here. The "dry" side won on the face of the returns, but the liquor men took it to the contest board, which decided that no election had been held, after they got through with it the vote standing equally for and against the sale. The dry people appealed to the Circuit court and the case will be heard the latter part of next week. Both sides are very much in earnest. It is believed that the dry people will win.

HERRIN, ILL.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN—I will try this week in the same old way to send you a few items from this section of the country. The work is good. The mines are running every day. Some of the boys from Kentucky and other parts of the country are coming and going all the time. I will send you the names of a few that have just arrived in the last few days and were successful in finding work:

Messrs. John Sharp, William Pallock, Joe B. Ried, Fred Wilson and Alvey Fogel, of McHenry, Ky.; John Byers, of Echols, Ky.

NARROWS.

Sept. 14.—Work on the abutment for the new iron bridge across Rough river here was begun last week. Murphy Bros., contractors, are working a large force of men, and expect to complete their work by the last of next month.

The Methodist Episcopal church is erecting a church edifice at the crossing of the Hartford, Olaton, Dundee and Horse Branch road, near Mt. Vernon church. The structure will cost about $1000.

Scarlet fever is epidemic around here and Dundee. A dozen deaths have already resulted, and much anxiety prevails. Several schools have closed and parents everywhere are keeping their children in seclusion.

Statistics carefully collected and compared by the farmers unions indicate a corn crop of sixty two per cent. and a tobacco crop of forty three per cent. of the crop of 1903 for the northern end of the county. An early frost would reduce these estimates.

Narrowwheels are justly proud of an exhibit of their townsmen's Mr. H. C. Powers, at the St. Louis fair. It consists of crude and finished products from Mr. Powers fire-clay beds here, said to be the finest in Kentucky. Clay is manufactured by a corporation of which Powers is a member, at Owensboro. A set of vases made from this clay and retelling for $90.00, has already gone into the homes of wealthy and distinguished Kentuckians including the present Governor of the Commonwealth.

Mrs. Julia P. Kinney, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Hines, at Rockport, has returned home.

Messrs. H. L. Thomas and Henry Berkeley visited relatives at McDaniels in Breckenridge county last week.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Two-dollar wheat is now predicted. Damage to the spring crop by black rust is reported. There were sensational advances at Chicago and New York Monday.

When the case of Mrs. Arbella Marcum against Judge James Hargis, Senator Alex Hargis, Ed Callahan and B. F. French, for $100,000 damages for conspiring to kill her husband was called at Winchester Monday. Judge Hargis filed an affidavit to the effect that Judge Benton would not give him a fair trial. Judge Benton refused to vacate the bench. The case is set for Tuesday, but will hardly be tried at that time, owing to Callahan and French being defendants in a trial at Mt. Sterling.

All the negroes were driven out of Carlisle, Ind., by a mob of white men. They were afterward given twenty-four hours in which to return, gather up their possessions and leave the town.

A mob attempted to take John Porter, a negro, from the officers at Jackson, resulting in the prisoner escaping after a fusillade of shots had been fired. The negro was afterward recaptured and with difficulty placed in jail. He is charged with an attempt to criminally assault a white woman.

SUFFERED MANY YEARS WITH A COMPLICATION OF FEMALE DISEASES.

Two Robust Women Who Owe Their Restored Health and Usefulness to Pe-ru-na.

Thankful Women Who Have Been Cured by Dr. Hartman's Free Treatment.

Miss Ruth Emerson, 72 Sycamore St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for two years with irregular and painful menstruation, and Peruna cured me within six weeks. I cannot tell you how grateful I feel. Any agency which brings health and strength to the afflicted is always a welcome friend, and to-day the market is so filled with useless and injurious medicines that it is a pleasure to know of so reliable a remedy as you place before the public."

Miss Ruth Emerson.

catarrh of these organs. While each case presents some minor difference as to detail, they are all in reality alike. Peruna does not relieve these cases by temporarily mitigating some symptom, but by a removal of the cause. Many a woman can testify that local treatment does not permanently cure. A large multitude of women are constantly doctoring from doctor to doctor to receive local treatment, with little or no result.

In Peruna these women find a prompt and permanent cure.

Imitations of Peruna. Peruna has come to be recognized as the greatest remedy for catarrh in the world. At first competitors tried to deny this and insisted that their remedies were just as good. This was found to be impossible, however, and now imitations are springing up everywhere.

To successfully palm off an imitation of Peruna even for a short time is sure to be a money-making scheme, but no one who has over taken Peruna can be fooled on these imitations. No conscientious druggist would sell one of them. Every purchaser should look carefully at each package of Peruna he buys, to be sure that he is getting only genuine Peruna.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Mrs. J. E. FINN, 82 East High St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.: Gentlemen: "A few years ago I had to give up social life entirely, as my health was completely broken down. The doctor advised a complete change and rest for a year. As this was out of the question for a time, I began to look around for other means of restoring my health."

"I had often heard of Peruna as an excellent tonic, so I bought a bottle to see what it would do for me, and it certainly took hold of my system and rejuvenated me, and in less than two months I was in perfect health, and now when I feel worn out or tired a dose or two of Peruna is all that I need."—Mrs. J. E. Finn.

Pelvic catarrh is a phrase coined by Dr. Hartman, covering all that large class of diseases that used to be known tives in Herrin, Ill.

Mrs. John S. Spence and Mrs. W. S. Greer visited in Central City yesterday.

Messrs. Frank Harris and Andrew Thorpe are in St. Louis attending the World's Fair.

Miss Nellie Harris is visiting in Beaver Dam.

Clarence Baker, of Taylor Mines, was here to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tilford are visiting in Prentiss.

Mrs. C. C. Balze is on the sick list. She has the typhoid fever.

B. F. Garrett is also on the sick list with typhoid fever.

There is lots of sickness around here at present.

The various attractions at the Ohio County Fair this year, besides the big Premium List, are intended to make it the very best fair ever held here.

A SOCIAL EXPERIMENT.

How an American Bought his way Into British Society.

Boarded for 50 Much Per Week— Became Acquainted Through an Ad.

A cable dispatch recently published in New York states that London society was considerably wrought up over the publication of a letter in the London Daily Mail, signed "American Visitor." The writer of this letter declared that for the weekly sum of 10 guineas (about $52) he was being entertained by a dowager countess for the Goodwood and Cowes racing season, the argument including introductions to title persons, on condition that the boarder did not wear American clothes and hid his American accent.

The London Daily Mail in cabling the letter to the New York American submitted documentary evidence establishing the genuineness of the communications mentioned in the letter.

The letter is dated off Cowes, Isle of Wight, August 1, and here it is in part:

I am in a chair under an awning on the deck of a noble yacht that to day makes a unit in the great floating forest off Cowes, having dined well at a board graced by the presence of probably more real aristocrats than all my conferees in Wall street have ever seen. I am a mere moneyed American, of confessedly snobbish tendencies, and I do not feel pleased with myself. Nor is my contempt for my fellow Americans diminished by the reflection that in directly I shall pay for that dinner. On the contrary, the fact that I have entertained, unknown to themselves, some of the proudest and bluest blooded owners of pedigree in Burke's is a tidbit lending a pleasant flavor to my cigar. The latter, which I suspect will cost from bill, I extracted from a box bearing a cornet inscribed with a motto that since Bolingbroke's days has been the watchword of generations of fighters.

I am the first paying guest to be received into the bosom of the distinguished but impoverished family bearing this crest. For something approaching my chief clerk's salary, $5,000, the dowager countess, my present landlady undertook to receive me for Goodwood and Cowes introducing me to a certain number of her titled friends.

I made the dowager countess' acquaintance through an advertisement in the "Herald and Apartments wanted" column of the Morning post, announcing my ambition to mix in good English society, approximate terms to be stated. The dowager's was one of thirty-eight replies received, half of them bearing coronets and the names of the people making a splash in society, as we vulgar Americans term it. One application bore an impressive daub of purple wax with a cornet and a strawberry leaves.

Of the many applications received my secretary decided on the dowager countess, as he seemed to offer the best opportunities, so that I found that for six shillings and nine pence, the cost of my advertisement, the highest English society were mine wide open to welcome me. Next day the successful applicant, the dowager countess, telephoned me.

Americans visiting England criticize your nonconformity and unbusinesslike ways, but they ought to have dealings with some bill burdened, entitled aristocrats looking for paying guests and they would shed that frown. No Wall street hustler could have handled the telescope better than the dowager and the way she stuck that subsequent negotiations and the business strings that I had to deal with totalled dollars for every day. The dowager made me put away all my American clothes before she would consent to temporarily entertain me, and she expressed the wish that I be the same with American society. I found the latter part difficult during the week at Goodwood and by good practice I have rubbed off the sharper corners of my objectionable slang, and the dowager gives me daily lessons after lunch on the yacht.

So he told me this evening sitting on one of the smartest yachts in the Cowes roads, satisfied with everybody and everything, for I am certainly getting my money's worth.

near by one of the most beautiful debutantes of the season. She is the dowager's youngest daughter and being an impressionable bachelor with enough money to build up the scattered fortunes of this good old family—it is curious, but my cigar smoke makes a succession of rings.

Near by sits the dowager countess. In the glow of the sitting sun she looks almost pretty again, and I can believe the story that in the mid-Victorian days she was an autocratic queen of beauty at whose frown men went tiger hunting in India and did other desperate things. The stories must be true, for the dowager herself told me.

Leaning over the dowager's chair stands her eldest son the present earl. Her sweet old face is upturned to him and I note that her hair is almost white. I know that the earl is indignant that his mother has taken a paying guest, and she is defending her action on the ground that everybody does it. The earl saunters me subtly at every opportunity, but his lordship must be careful or I shall tell him that I could obtain as good accommodation elsewhere at cheaper rates. Besides, I'll no longer allow him to teach me bridge at sixpenny points.

What's In a Name?
Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago, discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases, DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Measure of Popularity.
Though Robert W. Chambers is a popular author, he will rarely talk about his books.

"Literary conceit is distasteful to me," said he the other day, "and I like to see it taken down in the case of a New York man last month. He has written a novel, and the public libraries have put this book on their shelves. The man called at one of the libraries to find out how work was going with the public. He hoped to have his vanity tickled a little."

"Is—in?" he said to the librarian, naming his book.

"It never was out," was the reply.

I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for more than twenty years and it has given entire satisfaction. I have sold a pile of it and can recommend it highly.—Joseph McElhinney, Linton, Iowa. Great Individual Farmer.

David Rankin is the greatest individual farmer in the world. The proprietor of 22,400 acres of the finest Missouri soil, he undoubtedly is the largest individual land owner.

Mr Rankin himself owns 20,000 acres, which are located in Atchison county, Mo., joined by 3,000 acres in Fremont county, Iowa, just across the line. His son, W. F. Rankin, is the proprietor of 5,000 acres of his own and various interests in which the two own much land in the vicinity. The interests of the father and son are entirely separate and managed distinctly.

Mr. Rankin's first concern is the corn, for it is the corn that makes the business. Of the half-million bushels which are raised on his land every ear is fed and not an ounce is sold. The first principle of his system is "Buy corn and never sell." From all his neighbors the corn pours into his cribs, and some seasons he has fed more than 1,000,000 bushels of the great fatmaker.

On the payroll are between 200 and 300 men, varying with the seasons. These men are paid at the rate of $20 a month.

David Rankin's parents were of Scotch and German ancestry, and at the time of the birth of their son were residents of Sullivan county, Ind. On May 28 1825, David Rankin was born. He moved to Henderson county, Ill., in 1836, and later to Missouri.

From 148 to 92 Pounds.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

His Explanation.

"All men," said Mr. Meekton, who was preparing a speech, "are created equal."

"What did you observe?" asked his wife.

"I said all men are created equal. That is to say, that they are equal to one another. This, of course, is not meant to imply that they are the equals of their wives."

A Power For Good.

The Pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than calomel, blue mass or any other pill I ever took and at the same time the effect was pleasant. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

The Air of His Parish.

Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, is noted for the fatherly interest that he takes in the members of the clergy, but with it all he has the faculty of administering a rebuke when it is necessary in a shrewd, kindly way.

One of the clergymen who has a parish on the outskirts of the Quaker City was noted for the long periods of absence that he took from his parish; in fact it occurred so often that it became a matter of common talk. One day this man called on the Archbishop and asked for a month's leave of absence, saying that the doctor had recommended a change of air and scene.

The Archbishop looked up with a quizzical look in his eye and said:

"Well, I make the suggestion that you go to your parish and stay there. I think that would be a complete change of air and scenery."

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kauble, of Nevada, O., says: "I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me."

Kodol Digests What You Eat

MR. BRYAN also is a Democratic editor, but he wasn't in the bunch at Rosemount.

THE irony of the Hartford Herald is about as ironical as the chances of the St. Louis candidates.

THERE has never been a President who was a better friend to the laborer than Roosevelt. His entire public record is proof of this fact.

If Unk Henry Gassaway Davis succeeds in being elected to the Vice Presidency he and the chorus girls will have a great fan-dan-go.

THE Republican party is pledged to change the tariff schedule when necessary. The Democrats want to experiment with the people's prosperity again.

It is a significant fact that the Democratic editors failed to discuss the election news from Vermont with candidate Parker during their recent visit to Rosemount.

WITH a negative candidate and a cause that does not appeal to any great number of public spirited persons, the Democratic prospect is as hopeless as it was in 1900.

IT WOULD be interesting to know just how many Congressmen are seeking re-election in the western States on their argument that the "gold standard is irrevocably established."

THE American people have learned the necessity of protection in two schools, one the Republican school of prosperity and the other the hard school of calamitous Democratic times.

CANDIDATE for Vice President, Davis, boasts because he has worked as a wage earner. He is whooping it up now for the party whose policies have made it impossible for the wage earner to work.

LATEST dispatches indicate that the Treasurer of the Democratic campaign committee has as yet been unable to touch Unk Henry Davis for the expected $500,000. When approached on the subject he continues to "Gassaway."

CANDIDATE PARKER informs the 6,000,000 Democrats, with whom he voted for free silver in two campaigns, that the gold standard is irrevocably fixed. Note the consistency.

cy. If you like this kind of thing this is the kind of thing you like.

REPUBLICAN policies have never been a menace to the business interests of the country. Their triumph has never been awaited with serious apprehension. So much cannot be said about Democracy and its policies.

AN exchange says: "Marse Henry remarks that Judge Parker will be elected and inaugurated. Once upon a time Marse Henry remarked that Tilden had been elected and called upon 10,000 armed Kentuckians to go to Washington and do the inaugurating act. But, being sensible gentlemen, the 10,000 didn't heed the call."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT in his letter accepting the Republican nomination and referring to the striking inconsistency of latter day Democracy says: "It is difficult to find out from the utterances of our opponents what are the real issues upon which they propose to wage this campaign. It is not unfair to say that, having abandoned most of the principles upon which they have insisted during the last eight years, they now seem at a loss, both as to what it is that they really believe, and as to how firmly they shall assert their belief in anything. In fact it is doubtful if they venture resolutely to press a single issue; as soon as they raise one they shrink from it and seek to explain it away. Such an attitude is the probably inevitable result of the effort to improvise convictions; for when thus improvised, it is natural that they should be held in a tentative manner."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT's letter accepting the nomination for President which was issued last Monday is one of the most splendid pieces of literary comment on affairs which has ever appeared. It rings in pure and pillid tones, and bears the mark of the learned master of public affairs. There is nothing indicative of the extremist in it, yet it goes to the full extent of honesty and uprightness. There is no more escaping its conclusions than there is resisting the inherent force and strength of the character of the man whose staunch Americanism is so eminently portrayed in the document. It deals with every phase of the campaign and the issues involved therein. The complexities and involvements of the varying and diverse circumstances and facts which envelope and shroud the points in controversy fade away as a mist before the sun and the entire letter rings as clear as a clarion call.

In the last issue of THE REPUBLICAN we asked an explanation as to why the Democrats were so intensely silent on the "free silver 16 to 1 or bust" issue which they so strenuously advocated four and eight years ago as the only thing that would save the country from destruction. The Hartford Herald rises up with the alacrity characteristics of the hot air, wind-jamming sheet, and says "sure brother we'll do it" and the following pitiful effort is in substance the explanation:

The Democratic National Convention at St. Louis this year declared that the financial question could not possibly be an issue during this campaign, and therefore the matter was completely eliminated from the platform.

Such an explanation is no explanation. It is a feeble attempt to evade the real question. There is no reason why the financial question is not with as much propriety an issue this year as heretofore. If free silver was the right policy of government four years ago why is it not now? In short, if the above quotation, or any part of the Herald's column of nonsensical nonsense, devoted to an explanation of the dearth and shrouded issue of 16 to 1 be anything more than flub-dubbery, pure and simple, we have been unable to detect it.

What we and the people generally want to know is, why Democracy, the St. Louis Convention and all the rest have abandoned the free silver 16 to 1 or bust issue of 1896 and 1900. If you can't speak, make signs or shake a bush.

In Memoriam.

At a special call meeting of Hartford Tent No. 99, K. O. T. M., September 12, 1904, brought together for the purpose of taking action upon the death of the wife of Sir Knight Shelby Wallace, which occurred on Sunday morning, September 11, a committee was appointed to draft suitable resolutions, who reported as follows:

We wish to assure him of the universal and heart-felt sympathy of the members of this Tent, and therefore be it

Resolved, That the membership of this Tent offer to our brother in trouble their sincere condolence in this hour of bereavement and distress, and assure him of that sympathetic fellow-feeling which is due him as a worthy member of our Tent, who has endeared himself to us by his exemplary conduct and his patient endurance of trials without a murmur.

Resolved, That this humble memorial be spread upon the Tent records and also be furnished to our county papers for publication.

Johnny Plowboy Talks.

Johnny recently read that familiar passage in the Psalms, "Thou openest thine hand and satisfiest the desire of every living thing," and it led him to think what a wonderful thing it is that the myriads of earth are fed and all their wants supplied from generation to generation.

Someone has figured up what it would cost to give the world a breakfast and how many countries and different climates are drawn on to contribute to this. When we remember the many dangers our crops must meet in coming to maturity it seems wonderful there are not times of famine, such as there were in the olden days of Scripture and still in such countries as China and India, where myriads perish for the want of food.

Our crops must undergo the dangers of drought, storm, frost and flood, and the soil must be kept to the maximum of fertility or the crops dwindle and man would suffer for food. Yet God has provided for every emergency of this kind and has given wisdom to men which enables them to maintain fertility and always to have food to satisfy their wants.

Pessimists at different times have predicted that the people of the earth would finally die of starvation because the earth would no longer yield food for its teeming millions. But any one who studies history knows that nearly all famines have been caused by want of wisdom in man in failing to provide transportation, and will be convinced that every emergency is provided for, and that when famine does come it can be traced to the want of wisdom on the part of man in not doing his part, and not to any lack on the part of the great service of nature.

Those who have not studied the matter are perhaps not aware of how large a part of the profit of farming, insuring the people against danger of suffering from want of food and exorbitant prices, depends on the transportation system. Johnny remembers a time when a local failure of potatoes would send the price up to $2 per bushel, when within 200 or 300 miles they were selling at from twenty-five to fifty cents per bushel.

The great famines of Asia have often occurred when parts of the country had enough surplus food for the other part, but in the absence of railroads, or even good roads for wagons, the people would starve to death because the food could not be got to them.

The histories of the countries of the world where the intelligence and enterprise of the West are wanting still encourage us, for in China, Persia and many other countries where the land has been cultivated for thousands of years they still produce enough food for the people and can take care of them if they have facilities for distributing it. The fear of starvation from poverty of the soil seems not to be based on reasonable grounds.

New crops are being grown and old crops put to new uses to increase the amount of food for both man and beast. There is no question that the United States, with its large area, with its adaptability of soils, with its varying climate and vast variety of products, could support a population many fold greater than it now has.

It is quite possible in the future meats will take a much less prominent place than vegetables and cereal foods, as what is required to bring one beef to maturity would feed scores of men for the same period.

The beef will eat in a day a bushel of corn, or its equivalent in grass and hay, and this bushel of corn, which is capable of being cooked in so many ways so as to give a great variety of food, palatable and nutritious, would feed a half dozen families for the day.

If we had no experience to guide us in settling the question that the human family will never starve we may be assured of it from the simple fact that the Almighty never made such a mistake as to create a race of people in order to bring them to starvation because he has made no adequate supply for their wants.

It is quite possible that when we have gained the wisdom to substitute fruits and vegetables for meats to a large extent we shall find that we not only add health and vigor and freedom from diseases, which will be another factor in the question of maintaining human life, but also cheapen the cost of living.

The present strike of the butchers is calling attention to the fact that the Americans eat expensive meats to too large an extent and to the disadvantage of both health and pocket. We have had a practical illustration of the fact that the people are not dependent upon the butchers from the fact that when a large shipment of meat sent to New York City had such exorbitant prices placed on it that it could not be bought by the middle class of people they found they could live well and be happy without it. The butchers defeated their own aim by their action and had the meat on their hands.

Farmers are less dependent upon others than any other class for their food, as they have the products of the dairy, poultry yard, garden, orchard and field to draw upon. They can have a desirable variety of nutritious foods produced on their own farms which they know to be wholesome and which will render them largely independent of those who would force them to purchase at exorbitant prices.

Deafness Cannot be Cured By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is cured by inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We have given away One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

An Eye Opener.

The late Henry Miles Pierce, Episcopal Bishop, of Arkansas, used to delight in telling the following story:

A Presbyterian clergyman was one day in his study preparing his Sunday sermon, when there entered a small boy carrying a basket containing some very young kittens.

"Don't you want to buy some nice Presbyterian kittens?" queried the intruder. Annoyed by the interruption, the minister responded with a rather curt negative.

A week later he was calling upon an Episcopal divine when the same little boy appeared with the same basket and its same feline contents.

The lad approached the rector and asked: "Don't you want to buy some nice Episcopal kittens to-day?" "Why, you told me last week," said the visiting preacher, "that they were Presbyterian kittens." "I know I did," was the ingenious answer, "but they did not have their eyes open then."

More Riots.

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately employed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the Liver and Kidney as Electric Bitters. It's a wonderful tonic, and effective nerve and the greatest all around medicine for run down systems. It dispels Nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuralgia and expels Malaria germs. Only 50c, and satisfaction guaranteed by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., Druggist.

Made Only One Bet.

I have made only one bet in my life, and I won that," said a newspaper man, as they began talking about wagers.

"You see, it was this way," he went on. "I was in college and a member of my class came in to call on me and my roommate. In the course of the talk I offered to bet our visitor a box of cigars that he was the biggest fool in the class and agreed to leave it to any three members of it that we should select. He consented.

"I chose myself as one arbitrator. He demurred, but assented when I hinted that there was nothing to prevent him choosing himself for his representative, and then we two could choose a third. It was rather a round about way of selecting a single arbitrator, but was necessary to work out the job my chum and I had put upon him. It then was suggested that we couldn't do any better than to choose my chum as the third man. He was a good judge of fools or wise men, I argued, and would be as likely to be fair as anybody. Our caller finally assented. We then proceeded to make our arguments. He called attention to various incidents in my college career to prove that I was at any rate a bigger fool than he was and that consequently he could not be the biggest fool in the class, and that was all he was called upon to prove.

"When it came my turn, I made short work of it by remarking that if he won the bet my chum would not have an opportunity to smoke many of the cigars, whereas if I won the box it would stand where he could have access to it as long as the cigars lasted, and that a man who did not foresee a position and argument in my favor in consenting to leave the matter to my chum must be the biggest fool not only in the class, but in the whole college. Of course we got the cigars and the loser acknowledged the justice of the decision.

Sour Stomach.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quantity too rich sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of early digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by all druggists.

Oddities.

In certain parts of the Himalaya mountains the native women have a singular way of putting their children to sleep in the middle of the day. The child is put near a stream of water, and by means of a palm leaf or a tin scoop the water is deflected so as to run over the back of the child's head. The water pouring on the child's head apparently sends it to sleep and keeps it so, while the mother proceeds with her work in the fields. No one seems ever to fear that the baby may be drowned.

When troubled with constipation try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and produce no griping or other unpleasant effect. For sale by all druggists.

A Sensitive Horse.

Harsh treatment, though it stop short of inflicting physical pain, keeps a nervous horse in a state of misery. On the other hand, it is perfectly true, as a besotted but intelligent stable keeper once observed to me, "A kind word for a boss is as good sometimes as a feed of oats."

A single blow may be enough to spoil a racer. Daniel Lambert, founder of the Lambert branch of the Morgan family, was thought as a three-year-old to be the fastest trotting stallion of his day. He was a very handsome stylish, intelligent horse, and also extremely sensitive.

His driver, Dan Mace, though one of the best reinsmen in America, once made the mistake, through ill temper or bad judgment, of giving Daniel Lambert a severe cut with the whip, and that single blow put an end to his usefulness as a trotter. He became wild and ungovernable in harness and remained so for the rest of his life.

Mayor McClellan Got Tried.

Mayor McClellan is a good listener, but he has difficulty sometimes in concealing his impatience, particularly when bored by some long-winded talker who seems to be ignorant of the fact that there is such a thing in the language as a period. The other day a veteran politician, after a tiresome dissertation on conventions and candidates, said:

"I am a firm believer in the office seeking the man, Mr. Mayor."

"Has any struck you yet?" asked the Mayor.

"Well, not yet, sir, but I live in hope. Why, I'm only seventy one, and if old Senator Davis can get the Vice Presidential nomination at the age of eighty-one I think there is some show for me."

Only did his Duty as he Saw it

I deem it a duty to add a word of praise for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says J. Wiley Park the well known merchant and postmaster at Wiley, Ky. "I have been selling it for three or four years, and it gives complete satisfaction. Several of my customers tell me they would not do without it for anything. Very often, to my knowledge one single dose has cured a severe attack of diarrhoea, and I positively know that it cures the flux (dysentery) You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you pleased." nation. And three times a Protective Tariff led to industrial activity, financial comfort and prosperity among the people.

The last seven years have been the most prosperous in American history. Industries have been active; markets at home and abroad have been increased; the laboring classes have been benefited, and the wealth of the country has been largely augmented.

In spite of these facts of history the Democratic party in its platform of 1904 denounces the Protective Tariff as a robbery, and asks the votes of the country in support of that denunciation.

So long as the citizen is justified in defending his own comfort and prosperity and in repelling idleness and consequent poverty, so long will the Democratic attacks upon the Tariff constitute a menace that will be fought with unflinching energy.

When Your Heart Fails to Pump Your Blood, Trouble Results.

Have you heart trouble?

You have, if you find it hard to breathe after walking up stairs, exercising, etc. If you have pain in your left side, in chest, back or shoulder. If you suffer from cold extremities, pale face, blue lips, dry cough, swollen ankles.

If you have fainting spells, breast pang, palpitation, redness of the face, discomfort in sleeping on one side.

The only scientific treatment for this whole train of troubles is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the prescription of a famous specialist, whose great success in treating obstinate nervous heart disease has made his name pre-eminent in the medical and scientific world.

The medicine will cure you. We know it. We want you to prove it. If first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will give you back your money.

"I have for several years suffered at times with heart trouble. I got so bad I could not sleep half the night, and had to sit up on the side of the bed lots of times to get breath. Three of my brothers have died of heart trouble, and I thought I was going the same way, but about two and a half years ago I got a pamphlet about Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and thought I would try a few bottles. After using them I recovered, and have had better health since than before for several years. I can heartily recommend them for heart trouble."—REV. JERRY HURT, Pastor Baptist Church, Hurt, Kans.

KILL BY JOY.

Sight of His Mother Kills a Young Man at Alton, Illinois.

St. Louis, Sept. 14.—Joy at greeting his mother after a separation of seven years caused so great a shock to Emmanuel Minor, of Wichita, Kan., at Alton, that he had hardly spoken ten words to her before he sank in a chair and expired before a physician could reach him.

As a result of her son's sudden death Mrs. Minor is overcome with grief, and fears are entertained that she will not withstand the shock.

Seven years ago Minor left Alton and went to Kansas for his health, settling at Wichita. As he expected he regained his strength and continued to remain there. For the past few years he has written his mother that he intended visiting her during the World's Fair and recently she has been counting the days until he should arrive.

Minor reached Alton and at once hurried to his mother's house at the center of Ninth and Belle Streets.

They greeted each other affectionately. The son appeared to be unusually excited and when his mother offered him a chair, he sat down, apparently in a state of collapse. Mrs. Minor called a physician, but before he could reach the house the young man was dead. He was 22 years old.
